

Committee on Admissions
D.C. Court of Appeals

The District of Columbia Court of Appeals is seeking applications for a vacancy on the Committee on Admissions. The Committee on Admissions is charged with determining the good moral character and general fitness to practice law of applicants to the District of Columbia Bar. Committee Members contribute to character and fitness decisions, participate in formal hearings, and select and grade bar examinations. Committee Members are appointed to a three-year term, which can be renewed. An applicant for this vacancy must be an actively practicing member of the District of Columbia Bar, and must have been admitted to the Bar for at least five years. In addition, an applicant should have strong academic and professional experience, and possess effective writing and verbal skills. A small stipend is available. Bar members who wish to be considered should send a résumé and cover letter to Tracy B. Nutall, Esq., Executive Assistant, Chambers of Chief Judge Eric T. Washington, District of Columbia Court of Appeals, 500 Indiana Avenue, N.W., 6th Floor, Washington, DC 20001, by November 30, 2006.
